

Swift service to the métro all day long

EXPRESS
Bus service

470

Beginning Monday, October 29, the STM will increase service in the northwest sector of Montréal by maintaining this express service throughout the day.

Transit users already satisfied with the 470 rush hour service will be pleased to know the same service will now be provided from morning to late afternoon, Monday to Friday.

Extending an express route's operating hours to an entire day is our latest innovation being given a trial run. Ridership levels aboard the 470 buses will be monitored closely to assess the popularity of this type of service.

Regardless of whether you need transportation for work, school, recreational activities or shopping, with such a swift bus service to the metro all day long, the car can definitely stay home!
